

SONGS AND TIMES OF THE '60s

In ways most evident, the troubled years of the sixties were reflected in the songs of these times. The Vietnam War and the civil rights movement were powerful forces which set America crying out for hope and peace, through so much despair and conflict. The folk protest movement in the early sixties set the stage for the outrage against a foreign war.

Alan Pearlmutter, pianist and singer and Linda Poland, clarinetist perform the songs which most clearly reflected these conflicting forces and emotions. The program will feature music by Dylan, the Beatles, Paul Simon, along with show music by Rodgers and Hammerstein and a medley from Fiddler on the Roof.
